ADMINISTRATIVE — INTERNAL USE ONLY Approved For Release 2002/08/15 : CIA-RDP86-00895R000100010076-0

14 February 1977

RANDUM FOR: DDI Records Management Officer  COR Records Management Officer  1. Paragraph 5.d. of the proposed Notice should be amplified phrase "convenience of reference" clarified. The Document Service maintains the basic file of intelligence documents on behalf Agency as a central reference function. As part of this collectemporary records received from non-CIA sources should be specified by exempted from the provisions of Further, administrate contain courtesy copies of memoranda that are held for two or e years and then purged. I assume this can continue but the first that are held for two or the provision of the purged of the purged of the purged.	vices f of ction ifi- rative
OCR Records Management Officer  1. Paragraph 5.d. of the proposed Notice should be amplified phrase "convenience of reference" clarified. The Document Service the maintains the basic file of intelligence documents on behalf Agency as a central reference function. As part of this collectemporary records received from non-CIA sources should be specify exempted from the provisions of	vices f of ction ifi- rative
1. Paragraph 5.d. of the proposed Notice should be amplified phrase "convenience of reference" clarified. The Document Servich maintains the basic file of intelligence documents on behalf Agency as a central reference function. As part of this collectemporary records received from non-CIA sources should be specify exempted from the provisions of Further, administrated sources courtesy copies of memoranda that are held for two or e years and then purged. I assume this can continue but the firm	vices f of ction ifi- rative
phrase "convenience of reference" clarified. The Document Service the maintains the basic file of intelligence documents on behalf Agency as a central reference function. As part of this collectemporary records received from non-CIA sources should be specify exempted from the provisions of Further, administrates contain courtesy copies of memoranda that are held for two or e years and then purged. I assume this can continue but the first	vices f of ction ifi- rative
phrase "convenience of reference" clarified. The Document Service the maintains the basic file of intelligence documents on behalf Agency as a central reference function. As part of this collectemporary records received from non-CIA sources should be specify exempted from the provisions of Further, administrates contain courtesy copies of memoranda that are held for two or e years and then purged. I assume this can continue but the first	vices f of ction ifi- rative
ruction under Form 141C says that before destroying "any" recorded custodian must follow the step-by-step procedures. If these edures are taken at face value the number of forms to be procession overwhelm the system. See attachment for a memorandum function for a services Group, OCR, containing comments and osed revision re paragraph 5.C.	irst rd, an e ssed rom
2. In general the wording is too technical and the procedure ersome for anyone outside of the Records Management Field. Mo oyees to whom the Notice is directed in the first paragraph wirstand it. In its present form the Notice might be useful to rds officers but a much simpler general policy for all employed.	st CIA 11 not unit
3. Paragraph 5 is not really a summary. Several elements an edures are introduced and discussed for the first time, e.g., of the Senate Select Committee on intelligence and the House ittee on assassinations. Assuming approval of the Records Condules the procedure outlined in paragraph 5.C. seems unnecessa	the Select trol/)
	Chief, Information Services Group, OCR, containing comments and osed revision re paragraph 5.C.  2. In general the wording is too technical and the procedure ersome for anyone outside of the Records Management Field. Mo oyees to whom the Notice is directed in the first paragraph wi rstand it. In its present form the Notice might be useful to rds officers but a much simpler general policy for all employeed.  3. Paragraph 5 is not really a summary. Several elements an edures are introduced and discussed for the first time, e.g., of the Senate Select Committee on intelligence and the House eittee on assassinations. Assuming approval of the Records Committee on assassinations.

Approved For Release 2002/08/15 : CIA-RDP86-00895R000100010076-0

TAN ISI IMETIN — PETANTUK ISI PAT

Attachment: A/S

11 February 1977

	MEMORANDUM FOR: Administrative Staff, OCR
AT 	FROM : Chief Information Services Group, OCR
AT	SUBJECT : Proposed
· .	1. The wording of the last sentence in para 5 c is too loose and will be too hard to follow. I recommend replacing it with the statement:
STAT	Offices may destroy other records provided that:
lied to this	(a) They have turned copies or originals over to country on all existing Privacy Act or FOIA requests.  (b) They have turned over to OGC the records or
Aluli al	(b) They have turned over to OGC the records or copies of records pertaining to all existing litigation or Justice Department investigations.
,	(c) They do not have a request from OGC, OLC or IPS not to destroy the records or the category of records.
	When in doubt about the propriety of destroying records, offices should complete and submit a Form 141C, Request for Authorization to Destroy Records in Office.	ozo f. Plus
	2. If the records people will not accept this change, I need some other form of relief that will make it unnecessary to submit a form 141C everytime we weed some old junk out of the biographic or organization files. There is no way I or anyone else can predict FOIA requests, Privacy requests, lawsuits or investigations. I feel that the restrictions on destruction must be limited to the problems we know about at the time we wish to purge files.	Sen
		STAT
		. .